BY CAROLYN ELSTON

Perhaps a little silvery shimmering fog in the early early morning, but before you've had your second cup of coffee, golden sunshine, and the thermometer mildly rising 'round the 60's and above—that's Carmel, California.

Perhaps a dim sort of sunlight, icy threat of frost-bite if you risk opening the window just a bit, and even after your second cup of coffee, the thermometer just staying anywhere from 20 to 40 below—that's Goose Bay, Labrador.

So Barbara Weis told me. She has just returned from a year's teaching in the U. S. Air Force School for children of dependents at Goose Bay; and she is just about the happiest young woman I've talked to in quite a while, because Carmel is home to her where through four years of teaching, three at Woods School and one at River School, she has gained wide popularity with our youngest school set.

"I couldn't resist going to Labrador," Barbara said. "It sounded like adventure, and it really was. I joined up at the Air Force Recruiting Station at Travis Air Base; my application was screened in Washington and as a Civil Service employee I flew to Goose Bay, 130 miles inland on the Peninsula of Labrador. There were 18 teachers in all, 13 women and five men. Enrollment of pupils for the first grade through high school started at 100 pupils in August but by June we had 300 pupils. Our pattern of teaching followed as closely as possible to that of U. S. public schools, but we had problems to meet and adjustments to make. Our one lonely high school senior graduated in splendor, with a full quota of college entrance credits.

"I was teaching first grade," Miss Weis continued, "and my pupils were certainly a mixture of six-year old seasoned travellers. 'We didn't do that in Japan' or 'In England were were allowed tea' or 'State-side there were sidewalks most times' were phrases I heard

Carmel Planners Divide Building Sites Allow Remodelling

The Carmel Planning Commission allowed Fred M. Dodd to divide an irregularly shaped piece of property on Scenic Drive into two building sites yesterday afternoon with a strong recommendation that the old Monterey cypresses on the site be preserved. They were definitely assured that the trees would be saved by Mrs. Dodd, present at the hearing.

Marie F. Burns was granted a similar permit to divide a piece of land at San Carlos and Santa Lucia Streets. Robert Little may make interior alterations in the business building he will occupy on Ocean Avenue. Amy C. Bingham received permission to remodel the old Pine Cone building on Dolores Street into a dance studio and public meeting hall with no commission demands for offstreet parking. Leland Stallings may go ahead with his plans to convert an office into an apartment on Dolores Street, the Commission also decided.

Water District Meeting Monday In Monterey

Councils of the five cities will meet at Few Memorial Hall, Monterey, Monday night at 8:00 o'clock to hear a representative from Stone and Younger of San Francisco discuss a proposed financial feasibility survey on forming a Monterey Peninsula Water District.

Ed Coffin, Pacific Grove Councilman and Chairman of the M. P. Water District committee, invites interested citizens to attend.

Voters, School Board Say "No" To J. C. District

Monday, in their unofficial election, the voters of the Carmel Unified School District said "no" to forming a junior college district with Monterey and Pacific Grove. The returns: 275 for; 435 against; total, 710.

Tuesday night the Carmel School Board also said "no" to the junior college district proposal, 3 to 2.

The board was free to decide as it chose. The poll, though conducted by the Carmel Taxpayers Association like an official election, had no legal status.

After listening to the board work through a medium-long agenda, the audience tensed when School Superintendent Stuart Mitchell said, "It will be necessary to decide this problem tonight," adding, "Formation of a peninsula junior college district would be the best solution for Carmel, financially, educationally and organizationally. The board is well aware of the reports and studies that have determined this recommendation."

Mrs. Julian von Meier made the motion in favor of it. "We've studied all the facts," Glenn Leidig, "firmly convinced" seconded. Geo. Yates said "It would benefit the district to join but we can't study it just alone. We must consider it in connection with our own building needs for next year."

"I concur with that line of thinking," Ted Fehring said. "We do have our constituents to consider in the matter. To me they said they didn't want it. The people had a chance to say if they did want it. I think we cannot tell the voters we won't pay attention and create ill will with a community that has always given us what we've asked for within reason. This (the election) is the only expression of a large number of our district. In the future people may come to us and we can say, 'You told us not to.'"

"I go along with Mr. Fehring," Chairman Gordon Campbell commented and then read from a prepared statement:

"It must be assumed that a cross section of voters cast its vote in the election. I do not believe the Board can ignore that vote, and should abide by it."

"In my opinion the passage of time will show that those defeating the Junior College District, however sincerely, lacked vision educationally and financially."

"I feel certain that the defeat of the Junior College District is going to prove most costly taxwise to taxpayers in the Carmel Unified School District."

"If, at some future time, the Carmel Unified School District does join Monterey Peninsula Col-

2 Percent Ord. To Break Block With Planners

At its study session last night the Carmel City Council informally approved Francis Whitaker's proposal for a solution to their impasse with the city planning commission over the 4-6 site coverage formula, which the planning commission wants as an amendment to the interim zoning ordinance and the council does not.

Councilman Whitaker's proposal: To adopt an amendment to the present zoning ordinance (not the interim ordinance) which will require that two percent of any building site in the commercial district (C-1 and C-2) be reserved for landscaping;

That two-thirds of this landscaped area be in front of the building;

That no portion of this landscaping is to be less than two feet in width;

That the two percent site area set aside for landscaping be in addition to walkways, driveways and whatever area the planning commission requires for off-street parking.

This proposal was worked out with the assistance of Building Inspector Floyd Adams and City Attorney John Morse, and after consulting with architects around town, Councilman Whitaker reported.

It gives the planning commission power to demand and get a reasonable amount of landscaping for new commercial buildings; it is flexible enough so that the architects can adapt it to the physical conditions of the site; it avoids uniformity, a pitfall against which Planning Consultant Lawrence Livingston, Jr., warned the commission.

Most important, from point of view of council and citizens, the two percent landscape amendment enables the council to postpone the 4-6 site coverage formula for study next month as part of the proposed master plan zoning ordinance, which, actually, it is. To accept it now as an amendment to the interim ordinance, empowering the planning commission to enforce it for a year, would be, in effect, adopting it permanently.

The 4-6 formula requires that, for multiple dwelling use, 400 square feet of every 1000 square feet of building site must be reserved for landscaping and parking; it stipulates definite setbacks, limits number and size of units. It is highly restrictive and controversial. One of the planning commission's reasons for asking that it be tacked on as a rider when the interim ordinance is renewed October 2, was that it would give them power to require landscaping, as well as give them "density control."

Mr. Whitaker's proposal gives them more than they asked for in landscape control since the 4-6 formula applies only to multiple dwelling; the two percent landscape amendment would apply to all commercial buildings.

The interim ordinance, which has been in effect for a year, and will be renewed, without amendment, at Wednesday night's council meeting gives the planning commission power to demand off-street parking for new commercial building. They have employed it to require 100 percent off-street parking for motels (one parking

SERRA VARSITY AT CARMEL SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Bob Walthour's Serra High varsity invades Carmel's Bardarson Field this Saturday afternoon to test the prowess of the Padres' 1957 grid machine. This is Coach Walthour's first year at the helm of the Junipero gridders and scout reports indicate the fiery mentor has an aggressive hard hitting squad which can move both through the air and on the ground. Losers to Pacific Grove in last Friday night's opener, the Cardinals will be back in their own league against the smaller Carmel High varsity and figure to make the going rough for the Padres. Saturday's varsity game gets underway at 2:00 o'clock and will be preceded by a Monterey Lightweight-Carmel Junior-Varsity game at 12:30 o'clock.

Carmel's varsity will go with the usual two-platoon system which finds an offensive unit of Bill Hicks and Pat Harney, ends; Fred Nelson and Hal Gregerson, tackles; Mal Burdis and Mike Raggett, guards; Parker Pollock, center; Ted Smith, quarterback; Andy Gray and Dennis Peavey, halfbacks; and Bob Goldwater, fullback. The defense will be manned by Art Wilkerson and Alf Anderson, ends; Phil Durbrow and Fred Nelson, tackles; Joe Mason and Al Eaker, guards; John Morse and Bob Goldwater, linebackers; Pete Phillips and Dennis Peavey, halfbacks; and Ted Smith, safety.

CARMEL JV HOSTS MONTEREY LIGHTWEIGHTS SATURDAY

Coach Fred Rainer sends his hopped-up junior-varsity into one of the toughest games the jayvees will be called upon to handle for the entire season when Doug McNeil's Monterey lightweight squad invades Bardarson Field for a 12:30 o'clock game this Saturday. Operating from single-wing, the Monterey limiteds present a hard-striking offense which is replete with tricky reverses, spinners, and massed interference. Spreads and flankers also give Coach McNeil's charges a potent passing attack which is always tough to contain. In their first outing of the season last Saturday night, the Monterey Babes played a 6-6 deadlock with Howard Burdick's Watsonville Wildkittens. Monterey had the best of the statistics in this one but muffed several scoring chances due to early-season jitters and missed signals. Coach McNeil is high on his 1957 squad and regards the tilt with the Padre junior-varsity as an ideal tightener before the CCAL A-division league play begins.

Carmel's jayvee squad got off to an excellent start at Gustine last Friday night, clipping the Papooses, 27 to 0, with a well-balanced running and passing attack which moved the ball for huge chunks of yardage. A repeat of last Friday's performance would find the Carmel lads giving the Toreobabes a good run for their money. Coach Rainer has indicated that he will go with the same starting lineup which got the job done at Gustine. At the ends will be Jamie Holman and Larry Dufur; tackles, John and Chris Wilkin; guards, Doug McClurg and Roger Diefendorf; center, Harrison Hilbert; quarterback, Craig Smith; halfbacks, Chips Wood and Pete Willcox; and fullback, Mike Marquard.

Saturday's junior-varsity-Monterey lightweight game will start at 12:30 o'clock and will be a preliminary to the Junipero Serra-Carmel varsity tilt which gets underway at 2:00 o'clock.

PADRE GRIDDERS WIN TWO AT GUSTINE

Carmel High's varsity and junior varsity football squads fought off stubborn resistance from the Gustine Indians and swarms of mosquitoes to rack up a pair of victories in their season openers at the San Joaquin Valley town last Friday night. The Padre junior-varsity romped to a 27-0 win in the preliminary tilt and the big Padres finished in front, 38 to 12, after trailing, 6 to 0, early in the first quarter. Both teams found the balmy evening and night football much to their liking and put constant pressure on the hard-trying Gustine elevens.

Buzz Rainer's young jayvee team showed promise of greatness early in the initial quarter when Chips Wood blasted off tackle for a 30-yard touchdown romp which gave an indication of future touchdowns to come. The stubby sophomore was an offensive threat for the entire game, scoring another six-pointer on the receiving end of a forward pass and compiling a 10-yard average on all his carries. Quarterback Craig Smith picked up the second touchdown for the Padrecitos when he rambled on a keeper for a 12-yard scoring play. The defensive unit also got into the scoring column when Russ Wise intercepted a Papoose aerial and ran it back for a touchdown. A strong defensive line anchored by the Wilkin brothers, John and Chris, dominated the smaller Gustine forwards and gave the Padrecitos game control on both offensive and defense. Larry Dufur, a demon linebacker in this game, established himself as a vital cog in Coach Rainer's defensive plans as he led all the Carmel tacklers from his left linebacker spot.

A jittery Carmel varsity squad got off to a shaky start in the main event when a muffed punt gave the Indians possession of the ball on the Padre 12-yard line and the grateful hosts struck for a quick touchdown via the air lanes. Behind, 6 to 0, before the shoulder pads were firmly settled, the Carmel lads settled down and drove for a 68-yard touchdown march following the next kickoff. Andy Gray's power thrusts off the tackle spot and a 35-yard forward pass from Ted Smith to Pat Harney provided most of the punch in the scoring drive. A fumbled handoff recovered by the Padres set up the next Carmel score which was pushed over by halfback Andy Gray. A crushing tackle by Phil Durbrow, Carmel's all-league defensive tackle, forced a Gustine fumble in the second quarter and the alert Durbrow caught the fumble in flight and cruised for a 38-yard touchdown. By the end of the first half, Carmel was ahead 25 to 6, and had established game control on offense and defense. The Padres went to the air in the second half to score two more touchdowns as Ted Smith hit pay dirt after a 42-yard pass from Cim Conway and Tony Bingham scored on a Conway pass from 27 yards out. On defense, it was the sharp tackling of Phil Durbrow, Joe Mason, Alf Anderson, and Steve Gann which throttled the Indian attack, while the vicious blocking of Parker Pollock, Fred Nelson, and Pat Harney opened the running lanes for the Padre backs on offense. The complete varsity squad saw plenty of action in the season-opener and picked up valuable experience which will help when the league games start on October 5th.

from the Army 'brats,' children born in the Services. A few of these tiny mites had never been 'State-side,' that is in the United States. I remember one little girl who had never seen a sidewalk and listened with shining eyes to our descriptions of 'the way things were at home.' But despite the bitterly cold weather, the barracks-living quarters, and the complete lack of fresh milk, the children thrive and seem blissfully happy.

"We teachers were happy too. There was plenty of variety in life if not in the food. The University of Maryland has extension courses and I went in for government and politics, and public speaking. About a week after our arrival in Goose Bay last August, the Air Force gave us a welcome party. It was all very grand and formal. The beautiful flowers, and wonderful things to eat were flown in from the States, and the bands were fabulous. After that we had 'formals' once a month and informal dancing and movies several times a week."

Miss Weis has come back to Carmel to teach first grade at River School this year. And she didn't come back alone. With her is Miss Betty Jarle Flite of Chattanooga, Tennessee, who will be teaching at Woods School. The two young teachers met on the plane taking them to Goose Bay and their friendship grew through the year. "It didn't take much persuading to make application for a Carmel teaching post," Miss Flite told me. "Barbara's descriptions were really raves and I find she hasn't exaggerated a bit! And how delicious it is to go out of doors without fleece-lined boots and a parka. The Carmel shops fascinate me. It was shopping I missed most in Labrador. Barbara's great longing was for a chocolate fudge sundae.

"There were no shops in Goose Bay," Betty's Southern drawl continued. "We did go several times to the Hudson Bay Stores. A number of the teachers bought furs, but what would I do with furs in Carmel?" Speaking of furs, the only wild animals on Labrador are caribou and moose. Though neither Barbara ever actually saw any, they didn't frequent the post.

"Our food was good. After the SAC, Strategic Air Command, took over last April, we even rated ice cream and television! We had one fascinating trip before the freeze to the Grenfell Mission. During the air lift of Hungarian refugees Goose Bay 'hosted' a large group, and we gave a party for the children."

Barbara Weis completed the picture of Goose Bay. "It was really a wonderful year," she said, "we even had Pop Concerts, but not what you think! Our hot water system went wrong one time. The whole barracks was without water. The Goofy Newfies, our pet name for local Eskimo and Indian civilian employees, went to work, and in their enthusiasm connected the water pipes with the sewage pipes! For days the pipes "popped" until everything was sanitized and happy again. At Christmas I flew to Rhode Island, and Betty to her home in Chattanooga. 'State-side' for Christmas was fun. But the first night back at Goose Bay was a celebration, and Goose Bay was 'home' too!"

Barney Segal Holds Open House Monday In New Location

Carmel Savings and Loan Association is now established in its new building at Dolores Street and Seventh Avenue. Open House will be held Monday, September 30, so that all interested may inspect the new premises. The building owned originally by Mrs. Mary Dummage, Carmel pioneer, formerly housed the Carmel offices of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. In recent years, the building has been used as a package depot by the Post Office during the Christmas holidays.

On April 3 of this year the structure was purchased by Barnett J. Segal, director of Carmel Savings and Loan Association, from Robert A. Norton, son of Mrs. Dummage. Subsequent months have been devoted to a complete interior and exterior remodeling resulting in virtually a new building. A modified contemporary style of architecture was chosen, to create an interior of spaciousness and convenience. Louvered glass windows and large areas of stationary glass walls admit light and view. For the interior a restful color plan combining aquamarine blue and dove grey serve as background to office furniture and service counters of walnut. Landscaping is yet to be completed in exterior planter boxes which underscore alternating panels of buff and grey concrete and yellow ceramic tile, interspersed with both stationary and louvered glass.

Barnet ("Barney") J. Segal, managing director of Carmel Savings, serves as well in the capacity of secretary-treasurer of the investment firm. Dr. R. E. Brownell is president-director; Anita M. Doud, vice-president-director; James C. Doud, a director, and John H. Rennels, assistant secretary-treasurer, complete the roster of officers.

Stork Showers For Mrs. Mead

A stork stood surveying the tiny booties and baby doll decorations on the cake centering the supper table at the stork shower for Mrs. Orval Mead given at the home of Mrs. Arthur Templeman on Tuesday evening. Pink and yellow tuberos begonia surrounded the centerpiece.

Here for the party was Mrs. Morgan Barofsky (Carol Templeman), of Pleasanton who had asked her mother to arrange the shower date to coincide with the California Amateur Golf Tournament when Carol would be in Carmel while her husband played his matches. Also surprising Mrs. Mead with gifts for her expected child were Mrs. Milton Thompson, Mrs. George Tomlinson, Mrs. John Setchell, Mrs. Robert Fischer, Mrs. James Heisinger, Mrs. Michael Appleton, Mrs. Thomas Heffling, Mrs. William Cranston, Miss Elinor Kerr, Miss Violet Daniels and Mrs. Effie Mead, mother-in-law of the guest of honor.

Earlier this month Mrs. Effie Mead and a group of her many friends arrived at the Orval Mead's new home in the Mission Tract with gifts to surprise the expectant mother. Accompanying Mrs. Mead to her daughter-in-law's home on this occasion were Mrs. Felix Dowgiallo, Mrs. Dave Davis, Mrs. Arthur Templeman, Mrs. James Burgess, Mrs. Perc Sapsis, Mrs. Maryan Crowe, Mrs. Raymond Hilton, Mrs. Joe Rodriguez, Mrs. Lloyd Woods and Mrs. Clare Ostrander.

Barbara, Dennis Wed In Mission

The Saturday afternoon wedding of Barbara Jean Tibbetts to Dennis Narvaez in Carmel Mission united two families associated with the early development of this region. The Right Reverend Michael D. O'Connell performed the ceremony before the candlelit altar decorated with vases of white asters and gladioli.

Barbara was given in marriage by her father, Mark Tibbetts. Her gown of white lace and net ruffles had a highnecked, long-sleeved fitted lace bodice with a stand up collar of the lace framing her head. The floor length full lace skirt of the gown was adorned from waist to hem with tiers of ruffled net. A flat cap of pleated nylon, trimmed with seed pearls, held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a sunburst bouquet of butterfly orchids centered with two large white orchids.

Mrs. Bernard Torres was matron of honor for her sister and the other bridal attendants were Mrs. Terry Wilkinson, Miss Marjorie Castro, Mrs. Paul Artellan, Mrs. Del Meyer, Mrs. Ray Danielson and Miss Phyllis English of San Francisco. They were dressed alike in pale lavender chiffon ballerina length dresses made with fitted bodices and billowing full skirts. Matching net stoles covered their shoulders and their silver slippers matched the rhinestone tiaras in their hair. They carried small flat white baskets from which fell sprays of yellow carnations and chrysanthemums.

Susie Zimmerman was flower-girl in a pale pink dotted nylon dress over lavender taffeta and carrying a nosegay bouquet of pink rosebuds and lavender violets.

David Ataide was ringbearer.

Raymond Narvaez was best man for his brother and seating the guests were Paul Artellan, Benjie Artellan, Bernard Torres, Louis and Charles Sanchez from San Francisco and Louis Jaramillo.

Mrs. Tibbetts attended her daughter's wedding in a silk sheath dress, printed in two shades of green, over which she wore a green linen duster. Her hat and accessories were white and she pinned a white orchid on the shoulder of her duster.

The wedding dinner following the marriage for the wedding party and families of the bride and groom was held at the home of the bride's parents. Arrangements of orange and yellow marigolds were placed about the rooms and yellow candles lighted the dinner table which had a bank of huckleberry branches, bearing berries, extending down its full length.

The reception was held in the Two silver candelabra lighted the table on which was placed the four tiered wedding cake surrounded with the baskets of flowers carried during the ceremony by the bridesmaids. Net wrapped candy favors were also placed on the table for the guests who spent the evening dancing to the music of an orchestra.

Mrs. Rose Marie Mastinoni of Fresno was in charge of the guest book.

After a honeymoon in Nevada the bride and groom will return to live in Carmel. The bride is a descendant of the Victorine family which pioneered whale fisheries at Point Lobos during the last century. The groom's great-great-grandfather was General Jose Castro who fought in this region against General Fremont.

MRS. MOHLER SECRETARY FOR BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

Hazel Mohler is the new secretary of the Carmel Business Association replacing Helen Wilson who retired to devote more time to her family.

Mrs. Mohler has lived in Carmel since 1942. She is a magazine article writer. An article which she has written on kelp is to appear soon in Nature Magazine.

In 1945 she married Charles (Chuck) Mohler. Hazel and Chuck made their permanent home in Carmel although Chuck's position as West Coast Editor for Rinehart and Company kept them away from here much of the time. Their son Conrad (Chaco) was born here two years ago.

Three years ago Hazel and her husband were photographed all over South America as a representative American couple chosen by Pan-American Airways. Their pictures are still appearing in national magazines.

Last year they went to Europe. Chuck describes what happened to him, Hazel and Chaco in A Year of Monday Mornings, a book to be published in 1958 by Beacon Press.

with the exceptions noted below. The requested increase is for the purpose of compensating the Company for the unreimbursed increased cost of "out-of-state" gas to be purchased commencing January 1, 1958, from El Paso Natural Gas Company under a revised tariff schedule to be made effective by El Paso on January 1, 1958, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Natural Gas Act.

The Company proposes that the following offset rates be established:

(a) for firm service, a uniform increase of 3.9 cents per Mcf (.39 cent per 100 cubic feet) added to the base rate for each such schedule made effective May 10, 1955, under Decision No. 51360 of the California Public Utilities Commission, except Schedule No. G-7 applicable in the Humboldt Division;

(b) for interruptible service to customers in San Bernardino County and eastern Kern County receiving service under Schedule No. G-56 and special contracts applying the rates and charges thereof, a uniform increase of 3.9 cents per Mcf. No increase is proposed in Schedules G-50, G-50.1, G-51, G-52, G-53, G-54, G-55, G-91, G-92 and G-93.

The Company will present to the Commission a refund plan which will make provision for possible refunds of revenues received by applicant on and after January 1, 1958, under the contingent offset charge contained in the proposed schedules submitted with the application.

The State, the counties, and municipal corporations which may be interested in the above mentioned application will be furnished a copy thereof upon request made to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, 245 Market Street, Room 832, San Francisco 6, California.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the California Public Utilities Commission.

ASHES AT DAWN

I hear a cricket chirr—
From far away a lonely rooster
Shrills warning of approaching day;
The little, wild things of the woodland stir,
And stretch; and make small, creaking sounds
As if their joints, like mine
Complained at sleeping in a make-shift bed.
The fog drifts over me;—
In the half-light of dawn,
Weird, phantom shapes, shrouded
In thin, grey mist
Become familiar trees and shrubs;
An old stump table and the greying ashes
Of the evening's camp-fire, — sans Romance.

—GRACE R. BALLARD.

CONTINUITY

Here perfumed grass is capped by winter, bound,
And from the insect past no little sound
Will cricket-ring our twilight into chime.
Nearby the plankton whirls on winter waves
Tossed like snow by wind on winter graves.
All outer cold is chill as winter doom.
Still, ancient roots revive in a hidden womb
And a myriad sounds of singers undersea
Unheard above, exist as the absentee
Swimming below the surface of all time.

—OTHELIA LILLY.

BETRAYAL

Time, telling the years like beads,
Paused at a crucifix
To give the Judas-kiss
Before slipping the last, heavy globes
Through His fingers.

"ON THE TRAIL OF VANISHING BIRDS"

This is the title of a new book by Robert Porter Allen (McGraw-Hill, 1957, $4.50), Research Director of the National Audubon Society. Its jacket sub-title: "An exciting race against time to save America's most beautiful birds from extinction;" describes very well the character of the book. Although it is essentially autobiographical, there are plenty of exciting episodes in the author's experiences in carrying out his assignments from the Audubon Society.

The book is concerned primarily with the efforts to protect three of America's most picturesque birds whose numbers have been greatly reduced in recent years—flamingos, roseate spoonbills and whooping cranes. Of the three the cranes and their problems are probably best known to the American public, thanks to the interest that the newspapers and magazines are taking in their semi-annual migrations from their breeding grounds in northwest Canada to the Texas coast and back.

As I write this, I have just been listening to Lowell Thomas' broadcast in which he introduced his listeners to George and Georgette, two young whooping cranes born in captivity at the New Orleans Zoo. Mr. Allen devotes many pages of his book to a description of the unsuccessful efforts to raise chicks from a captive pair at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge in 1949 and 1950. He concludes that our chief concern in attempting to perpetuate the species must be with the wild birds, though there are only between 25 and 30 of them in existence. Perhaps the news about George and Georgette will change the picture somewhat.

Some of the most exciting pages of the book deal with the attempt to locate the nesting areas of the cranes in northwest Canada. The search was carried on for several years unsuccessfully but finally in 1955 the author and a companion were landed by helicopter in a section of Wood Buffalo Park where the nests were found. It has since then been possible to log with some degree of accuracy the migrations of the small band of cranes from their nesting grounds to their winter homes on the Texas coast.

The roseate spoonbill has fared better than the cranes. Some 15 years ago when the author first started his studies for the National Audubon Society there were only 15 breeding pairs in Florida. In the winter of 1954-55 the population climbed to an all-time high of 428 nesting adults. The Audubon Society has now instituted wildlife tours with competent guides to see the colony and more than 12,000 people have now taken part in these tours.

The future of the flamingo is not so rosy. Their nesting colonies in Cuba and the West Indies have been repeatedly raided by lawless natives and protection is difficult. Mr. Allen's many trips in search of nurseries make exciting reading. There are stories of both disappointments and successes.

The final chapter is an excellent argument for the importance of teaching and preaching conservation. It describes the success of the effort to protect the American egret but the tragic extermination of the passenger pigeon, the Carolina parakeet, the great auk, the Labrador duck and the heath hen. Theodore Roosevelt expressed the significance of these tragedies well, when he wrote: "The destruction of the wild pigeon and the Carolina parakeet has meant a loss as severe as if the Catskills or the Palisades were taken away. When I hear of the destruction of a species, I feel just as if all the works of some great writer had perished."

Ruth Beckford To Present Africa Dance Program

Limbo, popular "under the bamboo" plantation number, is featured on the concert program of folklore and rituals of Haiti, Africa and Trinidad, which Ruth Beckford and her troupe of fourteen Dancers and Drummers will perform October 12, at Sunset Auditorium, Carmel. This is their first Pacific coast tour.

Miss Beckford has adapted Limbo from the original choreography of Winston Simon, who staged the dance at Princess Margaret's request during her official visit in Trinidad two years ago. Dorothy Dandridge brought it to filmgoers' attention with her recent version in Island in the Sun, with Harry Belafonte.

Also listed on the Beckford program are Ibo Lele, a drum interlude, Petro, an impressive voodoo ceremonial, Tambours Jacmel, a drum ritual, Belairs, in which two girls compete for "queen status" at a festival, Afrique, a three-part primitive episode of the Wanyika (Bantu) tribe in Southwest Kenya, Loa Ezile, an invocation, Causerie Gonaives, a drum conversation between workers on a sisal plantation, and Bamboche, a colorful congo danced by Haitian peasants at harvest time.

Helene Matheson

Mrs. Helene Koelling Matheson died on Friday morning after being severely burned about the face and body in an accident at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Zellhoefer, in Carmel Highlands. Her husband, Avery Almon Matheson, had died four days previously. Mrs. Matheson went to stay with her daughter after her husband's death. On Friday morning the frames of her glasses caught fire and the blaze quickly spread to her hair and clothing inflicting severe burns.

Mrs. Matheson was born in Hamburg, Germany, on May 13, 1875. She was a naturalized citizen and a member of the Episcopal Church. Until her husband's death she made her home in Carmel.

Besides her daughter she is survived by three grandchildren, John W., Joan Judith and Jerry Zellhoefer of Carmel Highlands.

Private funeral services were held on Saturday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Business statistics professor finds

"Gas and Electricity cost less than in 1936!"

Professor William Spurr, of the Stanford Graduate School of Business, has made a study of the cost of living in California. His findings show that while the over-all cost of living has doubled since 1936, the average cost of a unit of P. G. and E. gas and electricity is down below 1936 levels.

Your increased usage has made mass production economies possible. Your total bill may be more because you're using more appliances, but the average prices you pay are far less.

These facts point out an important advantage to living in California. With gas and electricity so cheap, you can afford to live better ... to let gas and electricity do more of your housework and bring you more of life's pleasures.

From Katie

Ed's note: Katie Schleppe, long time Carmelite, who was here last month between rambles, writes from:

Perham, Minnesota
September 16

Dear Wilma:

We seem to have exchanged New York's and Tokyo's exotic hectic, Southern California's stagnant plushness, and Carmel's stimulating intellectual and nostalgic beauty for the northern lake and prairie country, land of Mobergs and Gundersons—for names like Minnetonka and Blackduck, Owatonna and Little Pine Lake. And scattered among the Paul Bunyans and Olie Olafsons are little Polish communities of Januszewskis, Kulkowskes, Przybylskis sandwiched in among Boedigheimers, Hemmelgarns and Papenfusses. Not an O'Brien or O'Rourke to spark up our town of Perham but several Mahoneys, McGowans, a Palmer and a Post.

All the natives are friendly, generous and enterprising, ready to chat over the cornfields or potato rows, and my closest one is a wealth of local information about the townspeople, most of whom, I gather, are her cousins; and our larder is being constantly replenished with delicious carrots, tomatoes, cucumbers and peppers from her garden. It's a cheery sound to hear that hand water pump of hers squeaking away every morning out back and good to know that she has gotten safely through the night and another asthma attack all alone in that wonderful old house in which she was born over 70 years ago. She's spry as a rooster, too.

When Wayne and I decided a teaching job for him in a small town would be a good thing for our 16 month-old Vaughn, a good thing for the exchequer and our own nerves after two keyed-up years of Tokyo, we couldn't have hit upon a pleasanter spot with its wide open, clean country, the beautiful lake five minutes out by car, the small, astonishingly well-stocked stores; and our well-built little house with its attic for a study, its basement for many purposes, its location only eight blocks from the school, a tiny grocery around the corner, a tinier library (only open Wednesday, 3:00-5:00, and 7:00-8:00 p. m.) etc., etc.

It's a pity we are Protestant in a way for St. Stanislaus Catholic Church is across the street, though our spirits rejoice anyhow at sight of it each morning brilliantly etched against a morning sky. Every view from our windows is paintable, and I'm going to photograph in color, not being gifted artistically enough to try it all with brushes—Autumn coming, too!

We are considered "unusual" no doubt by our neighbors because we have indoor plumbing, an automatic, indoor, water pump and no T.V. We do have two Japanese flutes, my autoharp and our Hi-Fi and records, and a good thing, too, for the radio emits such absolute bilge I can scarcely ever turn it on. For time-correcting we have whistle, bells and sirens denoting 7:00 a.m.; 12 noon, 6:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. in addition to all the beckoning chimes of the many churches on various catechizing and prayer-meeting days. As for Sunday... bells!

It's such a pleasant place, circa 2000 souls, with a local weekly, A. P. O. like old Carmel's, one bank, no street names, no house numbers, no sophistry and not much book-larnin', but quiet, folksy people who pride themselves, and justifiably so, on their modern, clean town with its older roots sprouting still in an occasional ancient brick house or village older sunning himself on a main street verandah.

Greetings to Kippy and Bert and all the friends whom I miss terribly. It may be years before we get back as we still plan for Europe. So hello to everyone.

Love,

Katie

Arsenic, Old Lace At Golden Bough This Week End

Tomorrow evening, the Golden Bough Players under the direction of Charles Thomas, will present Arsenic and Old Lace by Joseph Kesselring, for a scheduled run of six week-ends Friday through Sunday performances.

Two modest and demure old ladies deliberately and without any qualms of conscience murder a series of men and bury the remains in their cellar, according to the rites of the church to which each of the victims belonged. In spite of this seemingly morbid background, Arsenic and Old Lace had blasé New Yorkers laughing nightly for three and a half years.

The cast includes Madeleine Hicks and Florence Venn as Martha and Abby Brewster, the two dear old ladies; Dick Lieberth, Errol Allan, Gene Eplett, Walter Williams, Margaret Phillips, Fred Harley, Edgar Pye, Orville Summers, Richard Bailey, John Clemmons, Douglas Macfarlane and Cecil Haskell.

Production staff includes Charles Thomas, director; Ray Wilson, assistant director; Polly Bowhay, production assistant; Ruth Allan, props; Don Ross, stage manager; Henry Hairstylist, hairstyling.

Women of the churches take turns in entertaining the others at these meetings in spring and fall.

Speaker for the afternoon will be the Reverend Allen D. Breed, formerly attached to the Kamehameha School of Honolulu. This school, of secondary and college level, was established in the Islands for young persons of Hawaiian blood by missionaries who had received great help and support from the rulers of the Islands while they were still independent. Hawaii is truly the crossroads of the Pacific, with peoples from all lands bordering the great ocean, as well as a sprinkling of Europeans.

A soprano solo will be given by Mrs. Kenneth W. Kightly, and Mrs. E. Leigh Mudge will give the devotions. Hostesses for the afternoon are the president, Mrs. Cridner W. Robinson, Mrs. John R. Christie, Mrs. Harry Beshore, Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray, and Mrs. Fred L. Farley. The meeting is at 2:00 o'clock in the social room of the church.

Sharing the birthday party with Laura were Benjamin, Sally and Mark Elstob, children of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Elstob who recently came from London to live in Carmel, and Bitsy and Mary McVey. Mary Elstob, aunt of the guest of honor, was master of ceremonies, cake cutter and disciplinarian.

After their Carmel visit is ended, the Shermans will go to visit Michael's parents who have just returned to their ranch near Hanford after two years in Spain.

From Hanford the Shermans go to Fort Benning, Georgia, until Michael completes his army service this winter. Then he plans to return to his studies at Cornell University.

Frank DeAmaral Jr. Married

The marriage of Patricia Ann McAlpine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn Beaumont McAlpine of Victoria, Texas, to First Lieutenant Frank Charles DeAmaral Jr. took place on September 7 in the Roman Catholic Chapel at Fort Rucker, Alabama. The Reverend Thomas J. Bloomstrom performed the double ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass before the altar decorated with two large baskets of chrysanthemums and ferns.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white princess satin gown with a fold of the material defining the line of the empire bodice which had appliques of lace on net at the bateau scalloped neckline and edging the cap sleeves. The full skirt of the dress extended into a chapel train in back.

Her veil of tulle illusion fell from a crown of tiny pearls matching her single strand heirloom pearl necklace. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. David McElroy was matron of honor in a mauve lace and taffeta empire dress similar in style to the bride's. Her small half hat matched her gown and she carried pale bronze and yellow Fuji chrysanthemums arranged with green foliage.

Mrs. Paul Meyer and Mrs. Richard McNutt were the other attendants wearing blue gowns made like the matron of honor's and carrying bouquets similar to hers.

The bride's mother attended the marriage in a slate blue silk dress with opalescent blue accessories and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Best man was the bride's brother, John Gwyn McAlpine of Victoria, Texas, and groomsmen were Lieutenant David McElroy, and Lieutenant Walton Capps. Ushers were Lieutenant Jackson, Lieutenant David Starkey, Lieutenant Bill Noels, Lieutenant William E. Everett and Lieutenant Cecil C. Blanton.

The young couple left the church after their marriage under an arch of sabers. Preceding the wedding Mrs. James Tuggy sang Panis Angelicus and Ave Maria.

The reception was held in the Fort Rucker Officers Club decorated with tall white tapers and white chrysanthemums and with a ruffle of tulle encircling the three-tiered wedding cake.

Following their honeymoon the couple returned to Fort Rucker where the groom is taking advanced tactical flight training.

The bride graduated from Nareth Academy in Victoria before attending Incarnate Word College in San Antonio, Texas, the James Daughterty School of Nursing in Corpus Christi, Victoria College and Southwest Texas State Teacher's College. She met her husband when he was stationed at Gary Army Air Field, Texas, after he returned from a tour of duty in Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeAmaral of Carmel Highlands and a descendant of Monterey County pioneers. His maternal great-great-grandfather was John Clenford who came to Monterey County to ranch in the early 1800s. His paternal grandfather homesteaded his ranch near Point Lobos. The family ranch included a great part of what is now Carmel Highlands.

Frank attended Sunset School and Monterey High School before graduating from Bellarmine High in San Jose. He continued his education at New Mexico Military Institute where he received a bachelor of science degree before being commissioned as a lieutenant in the Army.

Jim Thompson At Fort Ord

Delighted to be stationed near home at Fort Ord is Jim Thompson, who, with his wife, arrived here last week from Georgia, his previous station. Jim entered the Army last winter while in his senior year at the University of California. He is a 1952 graduate of Carmel High School and, after his Army service is completed, expects to resume his pre-law studies at California.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

I doubt if you've seen the special maps this telephone man is looking at. It's a sure bet you won't find them in your youngsters' school books. But maps like this are mighty important to us. They show the routes of telephone lines here in town—above the streets and underground, too. If our instruments see a sign of trouble, these maps help repair crews track it down in a hurry. We plan ahead this way so we can fix troubles before they affect your service.

Could be that you've noticed cans like these hanging from telephone cables. If so, you've probably wondered about them. Well, they're weights to keep cables from "dancing" in the wind. Know how your clothesline gets whipped around on windy days? If we let this happen to telephone lines, it might loosen the poles. So these weights keep the wind from playing tricks on us.

With the football season upon us some of us are going to take in a game or two watching the pro's or our favorite college team. Be assured of that 50 yard line seat and call ahead for tickets.

FROM A
LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

Have you read The Hidden Persuaders, that book about the psychology behind modern advertising? We thought of it yesterday when we heard radio announcers begin their pitch about holiday gifts and wearing apparel. So here we are at the end of September telling you that you couldn't do better than to give books for Christmas, especially to children. Get 'em in the reading habit early in life.

Farley Mowat has written a book about a dog, his own dog, a person named Mutt. There was probably great doubt in Mutt's mind as to whether or not he was a dog. He preferred to act as if he were human, and he did a good job of it. He even wore motorcycle goggles when riding in the family car, to the great astonishment of the casual beholder. The Dog Who Wouldn't Be is a very funny book for everybody.

An unusual book about Abraham Lincoln was written by Maurine Redway. It is a short biography tied closely to a series of photographs of the places made famous by their association with Lincoln, and of the great statues of Lincoln, which have been erected all over the country. The title of the book is Marks of Lincoln in Our Land.

The first volume of a contemplated exhaustive biography of Alexander Hamilton has now appeared, with the title Alexander Hamilton, Youth to Maturity. It was written by Broadus Mitchell. This is a large book, about a third of which is taken up by the voluminous notes the author has included. The publishers predict that this book will become the standard work on Hamilton and will remain so for years to come.

It has been said that nearly half of the marriages contracted in America today, are between two persons of different religious faiths. A new book which looks at this problem squarely is called One Marriage, Two Faiths, and was written by James Bossard.

Face to Face is the life story of a young blind Hindu who came to this country at the age of fifteen, to study at the Arkansas School for the Blind. Later he entered Pomona College, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his junior year. He is now studying in England, after which he hopes to go back to India and be a leader of his people. This is an inspiring book. The author's name is Ved Mehta.

One of the important novels of this day is The Red and the White by Henri Troyat. It is the story of the Russian revolution and the establishment of the Soviet regime. This book has size and scope, with a large cast of characters, reminding the reader of some works of the great Russian novelists of an earlier day.

There are eight or ten novels this week, and included there among is the latest Manning Coles which is entitled Death of an Ambassador. Something for everyone at your public library!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The unchanging, harmonious nature of all that is created by God, divine Mind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. Scriptural selections will include the following (Psalms 111:2, 7, 8): "The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein. The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure. They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (335:25-29): "Mind is the divine Principle, Love, and can produce nothing unlike the eternal Father-Mother, God. Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

We have just listed a house four blocks from the Post Office. It has at street level: one bedroom, living room, ceramic tiled kitchen with eating area, ceramic tile bath, and a balcony. In the unfinished basement (the house is on a hillside lot) there is room for two more bedrooms and a bath. The furnace and rough plumbing are in, and the finish plumbing is also there.

So, if you don't have a big down payment, this is a good deal if you (a) want a one-bedroom home, (b) need a two or three-bedroom, two-bath house and are handy with tools ($400 should buy the materials) or (c) want to speculate. Exclusive.

Voters, School Board Say "No" To J. C. Dist.

lege, it will have to pay dearly for the college plant, and, at a price far in excess of the bargain offer made a short time ago by the Monterey District. We will, in the meantime, as outsiders to Monterey Peninsula College, be paying out our tax moneys to it for its building construction and equipment program. As outsiders we will not be credited for this outlay of tax moneys, and will be helping to pay for an educational plant in whose management we have no voice whatsoever."

Before he called for the board vote on Mrs. von Meier's motion, Chairman Campbell invited discussion from the floor. Absolutely nobody got hurt, or even scratched. Knowing from the board's comments that three of the five members accepted their election as a representative expression of public opinion, and were going to respect it, members of the Carmel Taxpayers Association bore good naturedly the comments of Mrs. von Meier, J. O. Handley and E. A. H. Watson on several slip-ups and confusions in their election, which are inevitable, and occur also in official elections, Stuart Mitchell pointed out.

Dudley Swim, representing the Carmel Taxpayers Association, assured the board, "The Taxpayers Association is anxious to support the bond issue for needed facilities at the elementary and high schools and we feel it is appropriate that our first responsibility is to do the best possible job in our own district."

Referring to the junior college district, he said, "This thing is not a dead issue. This group is willing to discuss this at a future time. Get our own bond issue out of the way and you'll find us willing to reconsider."

Paul McKinstry, a member of the citizens advisory committee which had recommended the junior college district said, "I am convinced the vote was well handled and I think the Taxpayers Association should be commended, and I think the board should be commended."

"I've given a major portion of my life for cultural and civic activities in Carmel," Bert Heron, said, "I've always given my support for improvements in the schools and I shall continue to do so. I can't help feeling there would bound to be resentment if the board didn't respect the feelings of the people." He explained that his reason for opposing the junior college district was his memory of Carmel's early experience as a part of the Monterey High School District.

Carmel City Councilman Francis Whitaker said that as one who served in public office himself he knew that the board could have no greater asset than public good will and support. "Our amateur election was sincere and decisive."

Admiral E. C. Forsyth, representing the Del Monte Forest Home Owners Association told the board that his organization had held a meeting last week "in which we discussed this matter. The sense of the meeting, due to indecisive factors in the junior college question which could not be resolved, was that this matter should be delayed at least a year."

Discussion over, Mr. Campbell called for the vote. Yes: Mrs. von Meier and Glenn Leidig; No: Mr. Campbell, Mr. Fehring, Mr. Yates.

2 Percent Ordinance To Break Block With Planning Commission

space for each living unit.) For other commercial buildings they have had little occasion to use it, Floyd Adams reported to the council last night. If the site is large enough to make off-street parking practical, the property owner has voluntarily included it in his plans. In case of construction on 40 by 100 foot sites, off-street parking is impractical, defeats its own purpose, and the planning commission had not required it.

Mrs. Bassett Awarded Medal

The Golden Jubilee Medal of the Philippine National Red Cross was awarded to Mrs. Audrey Bassett of Carmel on September 19 by the Honorable N. Roxas, Philippine consul general in San Francisco, at a special ceremony held at Pacific Area headquarters of the American National Red Cross in San Francisco.

The medal was given to Mrs. Bassett in recognition of her outstanding work, covering a period of 15 months in 1945-46, when she reorganized the Junior Red Cross program in the Philippines, using the American Junior Red Cross program as a pattern but adapting it to Philippine needs.

"As a result of Mrs. Bassett's firm groundwork, the Junior Red Cross program of the Philippine National Red Cross is today an enthusiastic team of young boys and girls who take their responsibility seriously," said Mr. Roxas in presenting the medal to Mrs. Bassett. Mrs. Bassett has been a Carmel resident since July. She is employed by the National Red Cross as field representative working with chapters in a territory extending from Santa Barbara to San Jose.

Who Likes To Sing? Sign-up Now For Mixed Voices Chorus

Under the Adult Education Program the Chorus for Mixed Voices is again rehearsing on Wednesday nights in the Cafeteria of the Carmel High School at 7:00 o'clock.

This is an opportunity for all men and women who enjoy singing to join this group of non-professionals who sing for fun. Several programs are put on during the year, the first of which will be at Christmas time. The group intends to follow the precedent established several years ago by holding a Community Sing during the Christmas week, inviting all the townsfolk to join with them singing the carols.

Those who enjoy singing with others can sign up now with the Mixed Chorus at the high school.

John Farr again will conduct the group and Miss Margaret Aikenhead will be the accompanist.

Mayan Film At Town House

On Wednesday at 3:00 o'clock, a documentary film in color with voice and music, entitled The Maya Through the Ages, will be shown at the Carmel Foundation Town House by Giles Greville Healey. This is a story of the Maya of northern Central America and southern Mexico, a record of aboriginal achievement, and an account of the present-day life of the Maya, whose ancestors created the most brilliant civilization of pre-Columbian America. The project, sponsored by the United Fruit Company as an expression of respect and appreciation for a Middle American culture so magnificent that it deserves permanent pictorial documentation, was carried out with the cooperation of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and the governments of Mexico, Honduras and Guatemala. The photography was entirely the work of Mr. Healey; the editing, assembly and script are the voluntary contribution of Kenneth Macgregor; the vocal recording that of Ralph Bellamy, Irving Pichel and Vincent Price.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.
